Policy Owner: Executive Vice Dean
Effective Date: 9/28/2015	Revision date(s): 8/19/2015; 04/22/2018; 08/02/2021; 8/15/2024; 3/3/2025

1. Policy Statement

This policy describes the academic conditions that are considered unsatisfactory and jeopardize a student’s scholastic standing at Rutgers School of Nursing. Unsatisfactory academic performance may result in probation or dismissal.

2. Reasons for Policy

To provide an overview of the midterm warning, course withdrawal, academic probation, academic suspension, academic dismissal, and the academic dismissal appeals processes.

3. Who Should Review This Policy

All Rutgers School of Nursing undergraduate students, faculty, and administration.

5. Definitions

- Nursing Prerequisite: A required course that must be taken before the 300-level or higher nursing coursework.
- Term GPA refers to a student’s semester GPA for the active semester (fall, spring, summer).
- Cumulative GPA refers to a student’s overall GPA for all coursework completed at Rutgers University.
- Academic Warning: A student will receive an academic warning if they are not meeting the academic progress or GPA requirements to remain in good standing. An academic warning is an informal and a strong recommendation to the student to work with their academic advisor, EOF counselor (if applicable), or Program Director on a plan to improve grades.
- Academic Probation: Academic probation is a status that indicates that a student’s performance has fallen below the School's requirement for good academic standing. As a condition of probation, students are given a timeframe by which they are expected to improve their grades to avoid dismissal. While academic probation is not meant to be punitive, it should be taken seriously as it is an official acknowledgment that the student is in jeopardy of being dismissed.

- Academic Dismissal: Academic dismissal is when a student is asked to leave the School because of poor academic or clinical performance, or due to an infraction of a policy such as a code of conduct or academic integrity policy.
- Suspension: Suspension is when a student is forbidden from attending classes for a specific period of time due to a serious infraction of a policy such as a code of conduct or academic integrity policy.

6. The Policy: 2+2 Blackwood Nursing Program

During a student’s matriculation in the 2+2 Blackwood Nursing program at the end of every semester (fall, spring, summer) a progression (academic standing) review will be completed.

Reviews of academic deficiency occur under three (3) categories: Nursing (705) coursework, cumulative GPA, and course attempts as defined below.

Nursing (705) Coursework: Defined as subject codes of 25:705 and 77:705. A full listing of courses can be found in the current academic 2+2 Blackwood Nursing Curriculum. Required passing grade to be considered complete is a C+ (2.5).

Nursing courses (ALL courses with 705 subject code)	C+ or higher (2.5)

Term and/or Cumulative GPA: The required GPA for program completion and academic good standing (term and cumulative GPA) is defined as a 2.00 minimum. Term GPA refers to a student’s semester GPA for the active semester (fall, spring, summer). Cumulative GPA refers to a student’s overall GPA for all coursework completed at Rutgers University.

Course Attempts: Students will have a maximum of three (3) attempts for an individual course. They can receive no more than one (1) failed grade, two (2) withdrawals, and must complete the course with a performance grade (numeric grade) by the final third (3rd) attempt.

Failure to successfully complete course(s) in the first or repeated (2nd) attempt can result in delay of progression and program completion.

Note: Withdrawal from all nursing courses (300 and 400 level) in a given semester is considered a single withdrawal.

Course Type	Failing Grade	Course Withdrawal
Nursing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 1 failure = academic probation • 2 failures = academic dismissal 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 2 withdrawals in any course at any time = academic probation • Third withdrawal in any course at any time = academic dismissals *Withdrawal from all nursing courses (junior/senior level) in a given semester is considered a single withdrawal

Academic Warning
Academic deficiency: One (1) course withdrawal in a nursing (705) course. or One (1) semester out of sequence with the recommended nursing curriculum, unless already pre-approved.
Note: It is the student’s responsibility to notify their corresponding advisor of any changes to course registration that can affect program sequence such as course withdrawal and/or registration that does not follow the recommended nursing curriculum.
Consequence: Students will receive informal notification or “Academic Warning” and will need to meet with their corresponding advisor (academic dean, EOF counselor, Program Director) to discuss potential impact on academic progression.

Academic Probation
Nursing (705)	Term or Cumulative GPA < 2.00
Academic deficiency: One (1) grade below a C+ (2.5) in a required nursing course (705). or One (1) grade lower than a C+ and one (1) withdrawal from the same nursing course. or Two (2) withdrawals in the same nursing course.	Academic deficiency: One (1) semester with a term GPA below 2.00 requirement. or One (1) semester with a cumulative GPA below 2.00 requirement.
Consequence: Student will receive official notification of Academic Probation via an academic memo sent to their registered Rutgers email. The student will meet with their corresponding advisor (academic advisor/ Program Director) to discuss resources to remediate the academic deficiency and confirm if timely academic progression is possible. Successfully repeating a course does not remove probationary status.

Academic Dismissal
Nursing Coursework	Term or Cumulative GPA < 2.00
Academic deficiency: Two (2) grades below a C+ (2.5) in any required nursing course (705), whether the same course or two different. or *Three semesters with a nursing course (705) withdrawal at any point in nursing matriculation. *Withdrawal from all nursing courses in a given semester is considered a single withdrawal.	Academic deficiency: Two (2) consecutive semesters with a semester GPA below 2.00 requirement. or Two (2) consecutive semesters with a cumulative GPA below 2.00 requirement.

Three withdrawals in any nursing (705) courses
Note: A student not following progression sequence is subject to delay of progression into clinical coursework, graduation, timing out of program completion, or academic dismissal from the nursing program. Consequence: Student will receive official notification of Academic Dismissal via an academic memo sent to registered Rutgers email. The student will meet with their corresponding advisor (academic dean, Program Director) to discuss resources available.

Academic Suspension
Violation of school or university policies, such as the Academic Integrity Policy, the University Code of Student Conduct, or the School of Nursing Standards of Conduct (violations are specified in the policies) may result in dismissal.
